

Pricedex eReports

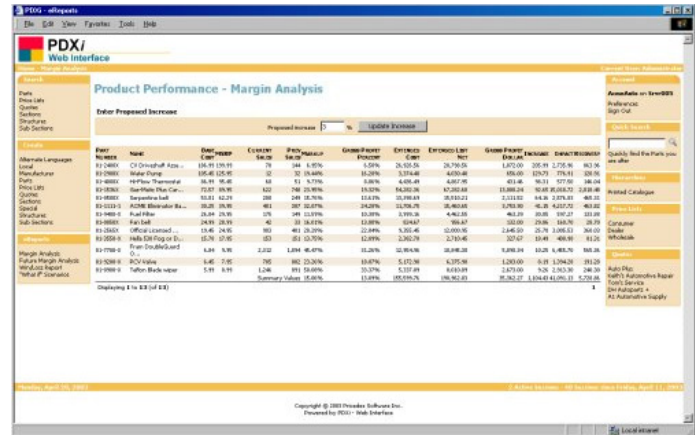

Pricedex eReports is a Business Intelligence portal, designed to make a broad range of part, product and customer-related information available and visible to business managers, decision makers and authorized users. eReports make use of the information contained within the PDM Builder product information management system as well as other information from business systems integrated with PDM Builder.

Dynamic and Real-Time Reporting Directly by the User

Pricedex eReports are configured on the PDX/ Web Interface platform, which enables rapid deployment of report queries without the requirement of a forms design specialist. Access to reports is controlled using the PDM Builder Security module. Reports can be dynamically generated using a set of predefined or ad-hoc queries. Additional reporting parameters are accessed using the advanced parametric search engine capability of PDM Builder.

Advanced Analysis

By incorporating variable inputs into a Dynamic Reports, Pricedex eReports also provide powerful "What-If" analysis capabilities to perform cost and margin analysis against historical and current information, or to project future trends.

Background Automated Processes to Flag Items for Action

Using predefined queries, formulae and rules, the Pricedex eReports portal can be configured to provide a summary report and links to Action Items at logon, or to automatically message a user that there are items which require action. Examples of this include products which have/or going to have a Cost Change, products which have fallen outside a price/margin band, new products requiring pricing, and more.

Downloadable Report Results

Pricedex eReports are printable directly from the web, or downloadable in delimited or pre-defined file formats for offline use in tools such as Excel.
